

CONSULTANT LOGISTICS (M/F/X) ENGINEERING & AUTOMATION IN KEMPTEN

YOUR TASKS

- You plan and implement complex warehouse systems for our customers with the involvement of the relevant head office departments.
- You are responsible for project planning with regard to the technical feasibility and introduction of automation projects.
- You will advise our branches on industrial trucks and warehouse technology with a focus on automation and support technical purchasing in compliance with purchasing guidelines.
- They investigate current logistics trends and develop new warehouse solutions in the direction of automation and autonomous driving.
- They accompany internal optimization projects and develop an economic decision-making basis for the management.
- You will be responsible for controlling and monitoring the internal new construction and rental process for worldwide contract logistics projects.
- You support the conception, development and introduction of new tools for planning support.

YOUR QUALIFICATIONS

- You have a degree in mechanical engineering, industrial engineering or business administration with a focus on logistics.
- You have at least two years of professional experience in the automation of logistics systems and initial experience in the project planning of warehouse projects, warehouse management or logistics consulting.
- You are confident in using MS Office and ideally have programming and CAD knowledge.
- You can easily present your results in English to the customer and the branch.
- You approach your tasks proactively and assess them smoothly against the various influencing factors, organizing yourself to achieve targets within the timescale.
- When working with different characters, it is easy for you to communicate convincingly and to win your interlocutor over to your ideas.

OUR OFFER

- Possibility of mobile working, modern, hybrid working environment and flexible working hours (flextime, working time account)
- Sustainable, growing family business, diverse tasks in one of the industries of the future
- Comprehensive onboarding program and career planning (DACHSER Academy)
- Fitness and sports offers, own health management
- Modern company campus with its own company restaurant and coffee bar as well as parking garage with e-charging infrastructure